

8th Masters Multidisciplinary Dissection Course in Head & Neck Surgery

Coventry 21st – 24th March 2012

Course Director: Prof. Hisham Mehanna

Guest Speakers:

Patrick J. Gullane, Toronto

David W. Eisele, UCSF, San Francisco

Ralph P. Tufano, John Hopkins, Baltimore

FRESH FROZEN
CADAVERS

Four day course includes:

- *The opportunity to perform supervised head and neck operations on fresh frozen cadavers
- *Practical dissection workshops on plating, endoscopic thyroid surgery and harmonic scalpel surgery
 - *Step by step 'how I do it' lectures and video
- *Multi-disciplinary difficult case discussions *Lectures on dealing with difficult operations
 - *Covers all core head and neck operations and advanced techniques
e.g. selective neck dissection, endoscopic and minimal access para/thyroidectomy, endoscopic laser and robotic surgery
 - *Two dissectors per cadaver

Suitable for Consultants, Registrars and Specialists in ORL, Max Facs, and Plastics.
Dissection customised to delegates experience and needs, with 'extension' procedures on dissection for experienced delegates

Course Dinner - Medieval banquet in the atmospheric, medieval monastery Coombe Abbey
Good, reasonably priced accommodation next to venue,
2 international airports nearby - Birmingham and East Midlands

Course fees: dissector £795, Non-dissector £425,
Day attendance £145.
AHPs £45 per day

Dissection places limited, 25 CME points applied for

For more information, please contact :
Rachel Davies, Course Co-ordinator
Tel: 024 7696 8722 or Email: info@MastersHeadNeckCourse.com www.MastersHeadNeckCourse.com